Expansion Set At City Airpark For Tie - Down

For Housing Units . . .

Bids Rejected

Cameron Housing Authority board members Tuesday rejected all six bids submitted for construction of a low - rent housing project. Fred Starnes, executive director of the Cameron Housing Authority, said the bids exceeded funds appropriated for the project.

Board members voted to reject all bids and re - advertise for bids at a later date.

Bidding on the 36 duplex units and a community building came from six construction companies. Base bids were:

BAR Construction Co., Killeen, $697,900.00.

Beckman Construction Co., Fort Worth, $787,225.

Bruce Campbell & Son Construction, Temple, $712,000.

Coffield Lumber Company, Rockdale, $735,032.

Homer C. Haworth, Orange, Texas, $729,713.

Rouse & Parsons Contractors, Abilene, $780,000.

Starnes said board members were disappointed about the bidding because they had hoped that construction on the project would start by the first of the year. He said, "Bidders had given alternate deductives (specifications that could be deleted) but the board felt the project needed everything now included in the plans."

Official statement agreed to by the board, following rejection of bids Tuesday said: "The Housing Authority of the City of Cameron and architects will restudy plans and specifications and suggest changes to the regional office (Housing and Urban Development) at Fort Worth for review and approval and authorization to re-advertise for bids."

Starnes said the government appropriation did not carry a construction deadline, but he said the board was anxious to keep the project moving. He also said that all public housing in Cameron was occupied at present and added that there had been a waiting list for space in the Cameron project for more than a year.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has allocated $753,552. for the new project. The allotment includes funds for planning and land purchase.

The new project will add 50 units to the present 50 unit Housing Authority. The new units will be built on two sites. Fourteen regular family units of two and three bedrooms are planned for construction at the east side of the present 6 - unit housing complex at 20th and Washington. An area north of Newton Hospital has been designated for the 36 duplex units for the elderly, and for the community building.

Crowded into the Cameron Housing Authority office for the bid opening Tuesday were about 25 general contractors and representatives: Robert T. Creech, Housing and Urban Development planner; Clark C. Tedmon, HUD Fort Worth Regional Office; Ralph R. Cole, representative of Bently, Gordon and Associates, Dallas architects and engineers. Also, CHA board members, August C. Kunz, chairman, John B. Henderson, Sr., vice chairman, Henry J. Litzman, Jr., Joe J. Heitman, B. F. Grimes and Starnes.

ESTIMATE NOW $11,811 FOR NEW PROJECT

Work is scheduled to begin in January on an $11,811.64 expansion of tie down facilities at Cameron Airpark.

City Secretary Buddy Fuller Wednesday told The Herald the project would include materials and allowances for equipment and labor furnished by the Public Works Dept. of the City of Cameron.

The tie - down layout will be paid for in part by funds from the Texas Aeronautical Commission, totaling about $5,900.

It will be located to the north of the existing plane parking area and present hangar, plans show.

A starting date has tentatively been set for January 19, 1969, Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle noted.

Construction of the new tie - down area will not affect any of the existing turn around or parking areas of Cameron Airpark.

The apron will be constructed of hot mix asphalt which accounts for about half of the estimated total project.

Cameron Airpark has been operating with FAA - approved landing and parking facilities, lights and airfield layout.

The Cameron field designated on FAA flight maps has a modern facility for refueling and general use for an up - to - date airpark.

It is the second major change in the airpark operation since the FAA - approved program for new runway, lighting and fencing facilities began about two and a half years ago.

Final estimates for the airpark program are being typed up at City Hall, Fuller told The Herald.

Visit Santa Saturday At Milam Courthouse

The beautiful weather last Saturday brought out a big crowd of children to visit Santa at Milam Courthouse, he told The Herald, but there is still lots of room on his list.

The 'right jolly old elf' will be at the courthouse again this Saturday from 1 to 6 p.m. with his bag of goodies and a listening ear for Christmas wishes.

With F.M.L.

Courage, which Ernest Hemingway defines in his "Death in the Afternoon" as "grace under pressure," finds a home in Waco's Fort Fisher, a reconstruction of an early Texas Ranger outpost.

We visited there during a Texas Press meeting a few weeks ago, talked with friend Ranger Capt. Clint Peeples and viewed the impressive array of momentoes of Col. Homer Garrison and the famous Rangers of Texas history.

Capt. Peeples was in the Buckholts area in December, 1963, when that Milam community was an armed camp and four youngsters wanted for murder in Alabama were captured in a night - long manhunt. We reported for TV and this newspaper that night.

Sheriff Carl Black was there, leading, and so were lawmen, the press and curiosity seekers from around the state. Some bullets flew.

Capt. Peeples and the Sheriff led the group that finally captured the four men. They were returned to Alabama where they were convicted of the killing.

The Captain probably was the calmest man there, assisting Sheriff Black in what could have been, if poorly handled, a shoot-out of major proportions.

Buckholts residents will not forget that story.

These things flashed through my mind as I viewed the rustic, modern quarters Capt. Peeples and his unit now occupy at Fort Fisher. A Ranger captain like Peeples these days is a walking legend, sustaining the line of the oldest continuous state police force anywhere.

Rangers are unassuming. They know danger, understand danger and have that "grace under pressure" Hemingway saw in the great toreros of Spain in the 1920's.

The most dangerous thing a wanted man in Texas can assume is a Ranger will not get his man. They were famous even before J. Edgar Hoover's FBI gained its reputation in the Capone days.

Fewer Rangers serve Texas these days, as a mobile society seems to require police on wheels and wings. But when a tough case arises, Texans can still expect a quiet, easy going man, Western hat over a confident smile, to act.

We saw Capt. Peeples that one night in Buckholts. More recently, we read of a Ranger charging a man for the death of a Hearne man, dead many months.

If it wasn't Peeples, it was someone like him.

A man like Clint Peeples is the kind Hemingway describes.

Collections For County Tax Pace City, Schools

A total $747,809.35 in Cameron Independent School District and Milam County taxes were billed to property owners in October and about $400,000. has been paid to date.

County taxes which carry a discount for early payment, are 80 percent paid. The county tax roll carried $437,000. in tax levies. To date $348,000. has been paid, according to Vaiter White, Tax Assessor - Collector. Deadline for payment is January 31.

School taxes are slower, mainly because there is no discount incentive for early payment. However School Tax Assessor O. G. Chamberlain said they expected at least a 94 percent collection. Payments to date on school taxes total $27,676.92. This represents 35.63 percent of the tax roll.

Chamberlain said the schools collected 98.12 percent of taxes on the roll in 1966 and 96.84 percent of taxes on the roll in 1967.

City tax roll for 1968 is $116,686.-51 with about 25.41 percent in by December 1, according to City Secretary J. P. Fuller. He said collections were a little ahead of last year.

City taxes are also due by January 31.

Dog Pack Brings Safety Warning

Dogs roving in a pack at Ada Henderson School have caused concern for the safety of school children on the playground. Ada Henderson Principal Don Wiggins, said city police had shot at the dogs, but they continue to roam the school playground.

Wiggins said as many as 12 dogs are in the pack that appears at the school each day. "No one has been hurt yet, but as a principal and a parent I am concerned about what could happen. A pack of dogs can be dangerous, even though the individual dog might be gentle," Wiggins said.

Dogs are required to wear collars in Cameron, but the city does not presently have a leash law. Wiggins said some of the dogs in the pack did not have collars, but they had been unable to catch them. He said City Police Chief John Shearin had been keeping close watch, but that without a leash law he was not able to get rid of the dogs.

Wiggins said it was an individual problem and one that dog owners in the area should be more concerned with. There is no way to effectively fence dogs out of the playground area, Wiggins said.

Packs of dogs have been known to maul, and in several instances, kill small children. Wiggins pointed out that on a playground where there is noise and children are running, it would be very easy for a pack of dogs to become nervous and excited and injure one of the children.

Wiggins said he believed that a number of the dogs in the pack followed children to school in the mornings and urged dog owners to keep their dogs leashed, or behind a fence when children left for school.

WILDCAT TEST ON TAP FOR MILBUR FIELD

The second wildcat within two weeks was set for south Milam County's Milbur Field last Thursday as two Austin operators scheduled a test for the northeast section of the field.

R. P. Teten and J. A. Leonard of Austin will drill the new wildcat, the No. 1 Huddleston-Henna. It is permitted to 3,000 feet and has the basal Wilcox as its objective.

Location is on a 75.9 acre lease in G. B. Bowen Survey about 12 miles southeast of Rockdale.

The Huddleston - Henna follows the scheduling of another Wilcox wildcat for the Milbur field two weeks ago, Cabot Oil Corporation's No. 1 H. H. Coffield. The Coffield is located on a 194 acre tract in David Houston Survey and is approximately five miles southwest of the Huddleston - Henna location.

John Connally's Bride Has Milam Relatives

Miss Tracy Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith Jr., and John B. Connally III, son of Governor and Mrs. John Connally were married recently at the Hyde Park Baptist Church in Austin. The brides mother is the former Frances Hobson of Cameron.

An indoor - outdoor reception at the Governor's Mansion was the second this year. The wedding and reception of the Governor's only daughter, Sharon, took place in the 112 - year - old executive home March 23.

The 5-foot-2, brown - haired, blue - eyed bride and the 6-foot-4, 200 - pound bridegroom were married after a 5 - year courtship. The couple met in high school. Both have bachelor's degrees from the University of Texas in Austin.

After graduation, Miss Smith, whose father is an officer of American National Bank of Austin, became a team teacher in an Austin experimental school.

When she told her first grade students Wednesday that she would be absent until after her wedding, one child declared, "Yes, ma'm, I know. You're going to marry the Governor's son, and when you come back, you're going to be Mrs. Nixon."

Young Connally and his bride both are 22 years old. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, Silver Spurs and the Bachelor's Club of Austin.

After a Jamaica honeymoon, Connally plans to enter the University of Texas Law School. His wife will continue to help teach 43 first graders.

Given in marriage by her father, the petite bride wore a gown of ivory peau. It is an original by Priscilla of Boston. The skimming silhouette, caftan bodice, roleau neckline and circular elbow sleeves were of English net appliqued with Alencon lace. The lace motif was repeated on the skirt front and full back panel which formed a court train.

A coil of handcut lace with lace flowerlet streamers held her layered veil of ivory silk illusion, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, white roses and stephanotis.

Honor attendants were Miss Nancy Hewett of Bryan, Miss Stephanie Millard, Miss Custie Dansby and Mrs. T. D. Manford III, all of Austin. Mrs. Sandra Lester of Houston, Miss Carroll Olsen of Corpus Christi and Miss Suzanne Jones of New Canaan, Conn.

In addition to Gov. Connally, groomsmen were Mark Connally, the bridegroom's brother; T. D Manford III of Austin, Clay Johnson of Fort Worth, Frank Michaelwood of San Antonio and Duke Covert and William H. Page of Austin.

Mrs. Robert Ammann III, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Toby Dalton of Dallas were among members of the house party.

Farmers Union Strikes At Corporation Farming; Backs Bill

AUSTIN, TEX.

The Texas Farmers Union is asking that a bill be introduced in the state legislature to outlaw conglomerate corporation farming in Texas, and the organization seeks the support of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House.

This was the first item on the statewide farm organization's "target program" adopted at its 65th annual convention here. Jay Naman of Waco, the president, characterized the interest in the threat of corporation farming as extremely high.

Following are seven other items listed in the "target program:"

"We urge members of the Texas Congressional delegation to support legislation proposed to close tax loopholes in the Internal Revenue statutes that permit hobby farmers and ranchers and corporations to write off losses sustained in their agricultural ventures against non - farm profits.

"We strongly support the Mondale Bill for the establishment of a national bargaining system to make it possible for farmers to negotiate prices with the processors on a commodity by commodity basis.

"We urge the support of the Texas Congressional delegation for an export wheat certificate program to assist in bridging the gap between world market prices and a parity price for the wheat which is used to implement our foreign relations program.

"We strongly urge immediate passage of a strategic reserve program permitting the insulating stocks of wheat, feed grains, rice, peanuts, and cotton for use only under emergency conditions.

"We urge passage of the Young Farmers Investment Act to provide necessary credit to young farmers to strengthen their economic position in agriculture.

"We urge that the National Farmers Union launch a cotton belt wide campaign to encourage farmers to confine their planted acreage in 1969 to their domestic allotment.

"We urge the Secretary of Agriculture to release more details of the 1969 Cotton Program and include 25 percent of the production payment as an advance payment."

The 500 delegates and members who participated in the convention at the Terrace Motor Hotel heard from National Farmers Union President Tony T. Dechant of Denver, U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, Congressman Jake Pickle of Austin and Wisconsin Farmers Union President Gil Rohde.

The convention reelected Jay Naman of Waco the organization's president and elected Joe Rankin of Rolls, vice president.

The Board of Directors composed of county presidents elected Foy Mitchell of Roby as District 3 Director to replace retiring Director Forest Creamer of Paducah. Beryl Long of Silverton was elected District 2 Director to replace Joe Rankin of Ralls who was promoted to state vice president. Other directors are W. R. (Buck) Breeding of Samnorwood, District 1; Robert Cathey of Dublin, District 4; Donald Meek of Inez, District 5; Jack Norman of Howe, District 6; Charles E. Hensley of Cameron, District 7; Doris Blissard of Garden City, District 8; and David Samuelson of Manor, District 9.

New Slogan Name For Seal Sale Drive

There are two new items in this year's Christmas Seal Campaign, sponsored by the Central Texas TB & RD Association. One is a slogan, "Use Christmas Seals..... It's a matter of life and breath."

"The slogan is new, but there is nothing new about our interest in breathing," said Mrs. Frank Hyder, chairman of the 62nd annual Christmas Seal Campaign in Milam County. "We've been concerned with diseases of the lungs, particularly tuberculosis, for many years. In the last decade, however, our interest in the lungs has grown to include many breathing problems caused by other diseases."

The other new thing is the name, Central Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Christmas Seals are no longer sent from each individual county but from areas comprised of several counties. This association serves 25 nearby counties.

Inspect Christmas lighting sets for fraying and loose sockets, and make sure they bear the approved label (UL) of the Underwriters Laboratories. Don't use electric lights on metal trees.

Keep your Christmas tree outside until you are ready to use it. When you set it up, use a sturdy stand that can hold plenty of water and position the tree away from sources of heat. Use flameproof decorations.

Yoe Basketball

THURSDAY & FRIDAY
Rockdale Tournament
Thursday - Cameron vs Hearne

MONDAY, DEC. 16
Yoe High Gym: Cameron vs Rockdale three games, starting at 5:15 p.m.

TUESDAY, DEC. 17
Yoe High Gym : Cameron vs Taylor three games, starting at 5:15 p.m.

Yoemen Win One, Lose Two In Georgetown Tourney Action

Cameron Yoemen cagers won one and lost two at last Thursday's invitational tournament in Georgetown, but had the honor of seeing one of the Yoemen named the only 19 - AA all - tournament player.

Tommy Terrell was the only two A boy named on a team of three A cagers.

Cameron played Taylor first in the tourney, and lost by 7 points, 61 - 54.

Taylor went on to win the championship by downing last year's champ, Copperas Cove by 22 points.

Bertram fell to the Yoemen on Friday when the Cameron varsity team racked up 51 points to their 30.

Coming up against Belton for consolation championship, the Tigers took the Yoemen by a score of 51 - 37. This team's height again gave the Cameron boys a bad time.

TUESDAY ACTION

The B team and the varsity both came through Tuesday night in Yoe High gym by taking both Milano teams.

Junior varsity cagers won with 74 points to Milano's 25.

In varsity action, starters alternated with reserves to score a 59 - 31 win over Milano.

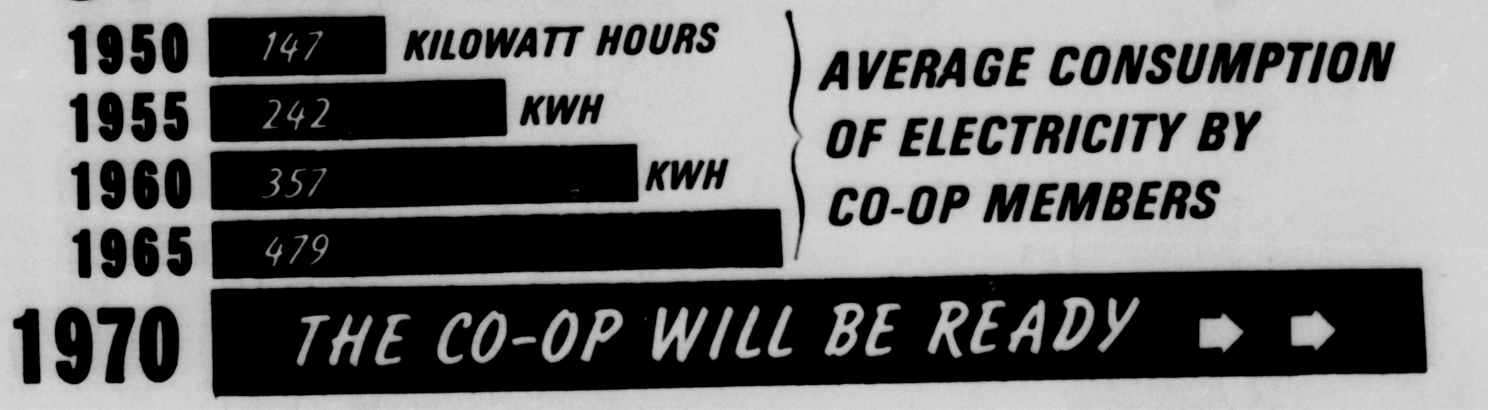
Thursday (today) the Yoemen will meet Hearne at 10 a.m. in the tourney at Rockdale. Hearne has a 6'9" player, so height will again be the problem. Coach Ron Murdock said this has been the Yoemen's Waterloo in most competition this year, but still the team is working twice as hard to make up for it.

Schedule Friday will depend on results of the Hearne tilt -- if Yoe wins, they play at 4 p.m. Friday and if they lose, at 10 a.m. Friday.

Next Monday all three teams will play three games with Rockdale here starting at 5:15 p.m. Taylor comes on the following night for three games, same time.

The Yoemen's record stands at 2 - 5 now.

THE CO-OP STAYS AHEAD OF DEMAND!



If rural people continue to use electric power at the present rate, by 1970 they will require 600 kilowatt hours per family per month, or about five times more than they were using just 20 years ago. The increased demand for electricity is the result of more electric appliances and equipment in rural homes. Yet, the market for these appliances is far from saturated. Although 91% of the rural homes have TV sets, only 5% have a dishwasher, 2.5% a garbage disposer and only 2.6% have central air conditioning. This means the years ahead will be fruitful ones for the main street appliance store. The electric cooperative will have the power when it's time to plug these appliances in. Advance planning lets the electric cooperative anticipate this need and stay ahead of the demand for electric power that is Helping Texas Grow.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

Oh, the power of tears! At times they are more lovely than her smiles. The damaged finger is a major catastrophe in this child's life. Trust is radiant in her eyes. A mother was near to lessen the pain from the misfortune. Perhaps you too have been hurt and deep in the heart.

Did you shed a tear? Try it sometime. It might get some stories told which you could tell in no other way. You may not have a mother, but one thing sure . . . you do have a God. Tears move people. They tell stories of deep meaning. Maybe the world should cry more. It would offer more opportunity for God to "come in." Then soften up and let your lacrymal glands work more freely.

Someone is waiting to kiss away every tear.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" forms a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Over $120 Million In NDEA Fund Granted To Texas Since 1958

Texas has received a total of $120,037,731 in Federal funds under the National Defense Education Act (NDEA) since its enactment in 1958, J. H. Bond, Regional Director, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said today.

The Act was signed into law on September 2, 1958, in the wake of warnings that the U. S. was falling behind in the scientific field and such evidence of Russian advances as the launching of the Sputnik satellite.

Its immediate aim was to augment the supply of highly-trained manpower in fields relating to national security -- science, mathematics, and foreign languages. Subsequent amendments extended its coverage to virtually all areas and levels of education. Over the past decade, this Act, administered by the U. S. Office of Education, has provided a Federal investment of nearly $3 billion to support American educaton from kindergarten through graduate school.

Funds for some programs are alloted according to State formulas, others on the basis of the quality of the proposals submitted.

Electricity does so many things...so well! Now it powers a car. The electric car zips along so quietly that all you hear is a faint hum. No motor noise. The car will contribute greatly to quieter traffic. Texas Power & Light Company recently acquired an electric car which is now on a demonstration tour in the Company's 52-county service area.

Economical electrically-powered transportation is just one of the many ideas for better living born out of research and development programs in which the investor-owned electric utility industry participates. Texas Power & Light Company is also actively involved in such research projects as nuclear fusion to produce economical electric power, development of a more efficient water heater, several soil and agricultural improvement studies and evaluation of natural resources in the Company's service area.

We're definitely working to better your world ...electrically.

IT'S A FACT.
To meet its customers' requirements for electric service, Texas Power & Light Company invested more than $230 million in new and improved facilities during the five years, 1963-67.

Develnper Cited For Work On Alfalfa Seeking Bee

Dr. Otto Mackensen, a research entomologist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Louisiana State University, has received a certificate of merit and cash award for his work in developing a new strain of honey bee with an affinity for collecting alfalfa pollen.

Dr. Mackensen is the son - in - law of Mrs. Kathryn K. Robbins of Cameron. He has been associated with the USDA Entomology Research Division bee breeding program at LSU for more than 30 years. He holds a B.S. degree from Texas A&M University and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Texas. He is the author of 20 published research articles and papers in the field of bee breeding.

He has been concentrating for some time on techniques for the artificial insemination of queen bees. His development of a honey bee which prefers alfalfa pollen is considered to have great potential because alfalfa seed is in demand throughout the country.

Alfalfa is widely grown as a hay and forage crop, and the production of plentiful, high - quality alfalfa seeds is a valuable part of the nation's agricultural system.

In an interview in the Baton Rouge, La. Sunday Advocate, Dr. Mackensen explained that the alfalfa flower is self sterile and to produce seed, must be fertilized by pollen from other alfalfa plants carried by insects - mostly various species of wild bees. The widespread use of insecticides is killing many of these wild pollinators and intensive cultivation is destroying their natural habitat, factors which enhance the importance of the honey bee as a pollinator.

Alfalfa has to complete with other blooming plants for the attention of pollen gathering bees. However, the average honeybee is reluctant to gather alfalfa pollen because of the structure of the flower, Dr. Mackensen said. The anthers and stigma (male and female parts) form a sexual column that is tightly enclosed by the petals. When a bee visits the flower for nectar this column is often released and strikes the bee on its head. The nectar - seeking bees soon learn to obtain nectar without releasing the sexual column, and thus lose their value as cross pollinators.

Since pollen - collecting bees always release the sexual column, a strain constantly producing young bees that prefer alfalfa to other pollens, is especially valuable, Dr. Mackensen said.

Dr. Mackensen's work was done with the cooperation of William P. Nye, research entomologist at the Entomology Research Division's bee station at University of Utah. The breeding was done at Baton Rouge, where no alfalfa is grown but where conditions are favorable for breeding bees. The testing was done in Utah, where alfalfa is commonly grown for seed.

A study of bee colonies in Utah first raised the question of whether the taste for one kind or another of pollen is an inherite characteristic and could a strain of bees with a high affinity for alfalfa pollen be developed.

In 1962 many bee colonies were tested, and researchers selected three colonies which collected large quantities of alfalfa pollen and three which seemed to collect very little. With these genetic resources, a low preference strain that collects only 8 per cent alfalfa pollen and a high performance strain that collects 85 per cent alfalfa pollen were developed. Both of theses strains were used in Dr. Mackensen's genetic analysis.

Strains of bees with which the newly developed bee has been compared collect less than half as much alfalfa pollen as the high preference strain.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q--Why do I have to request a student deferment in writing when my college already has furnished my local board evidence of my satisfactory academic progress?

A--You have to do this because the Selective Service law provides that you do it. Your local board has no authority to defer you in class II-S unless you do. You have to do this only once; you don't have to do it each year you are in college. The information provided by your college that you are a full - time, satisfactory student each fall is done by the college as a courtesy to you. Actually it is your responsibility to do it.

Q--I was married and the father of two children. Currently I am classified in class III-A for the dependent children. This week I was divorced, and my wife was given custody of the children. Will this development have a bearing on my III-A classification?

A--Yes. The Selective Service law places upon you the responsibility of reporting to your board in writing any fact that might result in your being placed in a different classification. You must do this within 10 days after the change occurs.

Q--I started college in September and was classified in class II-S, but I've now discontinued my studies. Do I have to report this to my local board?

A--Yes, within 10 days after you dropped out.

The Secret Of Santa Vittorio

The Secret of Santa Vittorio, by Robert Crichton, is available at the Cameron Public Library.

The town of Santa Vittorio has but one reason for its existence on a mountainside in Italy -- the grapevines and the wine. The people had a saying, "Without the wine even God Himself could not invent a reason for Santa Vittorio."

The secret of Santa Vittorio is where one million bottles of wine, their lifeblood, are hidden by the villagers. A German occupying force comes to "requisition" the wine.

Holding this group of isolated, suspicious and cunning people together is Bombolini, a wine merchant looked on as the village clown. Captain Sepp von Prum heads the eight - man occupation force and is convinced he can win a bloodless victory.

These two men hold opposite views of life. Captain von Prum believes "In the long run, one life means nothing." Bombolini knows "In the end, nothing is more important than one life."

Robert Crichton's first novel succeeds in drawing a picture of Santa Vittorio and its people that is comic, sometimes wild, and entirely human. His characters come alive with all the Italian villagers' courage and cowardice.

His style invokes the very spirit of a people whose lives are bound to the hillside by the grapevines. They hope for nothing, so that when something good happens they have joy and when disaster comes they expected it anyway. They endure: the poverty, the weather, thoroughly crooked town council, and finally the Germans.

How can a whole town keep a secret? How can a leader who must refer to his Machiavelli for wisdom defeat an honor-obsessed German officer? Their wills clash, but we know from the start that von Prum hasn't a chance against the wily Bombolini.

'Is Santa Real?' Child's Question Can Pose Problem For Parents

COLLEGE STATION

Should parents tell their children Santa Claus is real? Many feel that if they do, the time will come when they must confess the truth and disappoint their children.

But if a child is told from the beginning "there is no Santa," will he miss much of the excitement and fun of Christmas?

Keep the magic and gaiety without later disappointing children by training Santa Claus and his reindeer as a wonderful game of make - believe. The jolly old man is a symbol of good cheer and gifts which accompany Christmas.

The whole family ceremoniously can hang stockings, understanding that Santa is an imaginary character like fairies and elves.

The child of two or three will join in the ceremonies but, no matter what he is told (because he can not yet separate fact and fancy), Santa is real to him.

By four or five while he still has his sense of awe and wonder, he may begin to know that Santa Clause is not an actual man who parks his reindeer on the roof and slides down the chimney.

Then and for several years to come, children enjoy the game. They seem to "believe" because it's more fun that way. In any case, parents always will want to emphasize the fun and spirit of Santa Claus and never use him in relation to a child's behavior.

But some children are very down to earth. They want to know in so many words: "Is he real or is he pretend?" Such a child should be told that Santa Claus is pretend. If his parents can get him to enjoy Santa Claus in the spirit of make - believe, fine. But if the child definitely does not want to be "fooled," don't press the point.

At the other extreme is the child who too easily loses the distinction between dream and reality. Everything that he pretends is real to him. He needs help in making distinctions between fact and fancy.

"At Christmas time everyone loves to pretend that Santa Claus is real," his parents could say. "But of course we all know that he's make - believe. He stands for some of the spirit of Christmas."

Is there really a Santa?

With a twinkle in the eye, answer, "Maybe so and maybe not."

Most children catch the twinkle and the spirit. They discard Santa Claus gradually and without heartbreak as they mature.

But you see, there really IS a Santa Claus.

33 Texans May Die In Holiday Traffic

AUSTIN

A warning that 33 persons may die in traffic accidents in Texas during the Christmas and New Year's holiday periods was issued today by Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir said the DPS will activate a special "Operation Motorcide" in an effort to remove unsafe drivers from the roads and lower the holiday traffic death toll. As part of this program, all available DPS officers will be on duty during the two holiday periods. In addition, Speir noted that the Department will make full use of radar, helicipters, and VASCAR as enforcement aids to officers.

"Operation Motorcide will be in effect from 6 p.m. Tuesday, December 24 to midnight Wednesday, December 25, and from 6 p.m. Tuesday, December 31 to midnight Wednesday, January 1," Speir said. "DPS Statistical Services estimates that 19 persons will be killed in traffic accidents in the state during the Christmas period, with 14 fatalities estimated for the New Year's period," he added.

VASCAR, which stands for "visual average speed computer and recorder," is a computerized device carried in some Highway Patrol cars which enables the patrolman to accurately clock speeders moving in any direction, even while the patrol car is in motion.

the holidays be sure your wiring and electrical equipment are of the kind designed for that purpose.

If children are to receive chemical or electrical toys for Christmas, use good judgment in selecting them, and then supervise their use.

Group Attends Research Study

By J. D. Moore

Eugene Klein, Burlington, Erwin Fuessel, Thorndale, John A. Smith, Joe Mueck, Frank Kratochvil, Anton Moraw and Coleman Duncum of Cameron accompanied by the County Agent of Milam County attended an in - depth study of Texas A&M Agricultural research work last week at A&M.

Department heads explained the organizational functions of their departments, personnel assignments and pointed out the coordination of programs necessary for efficient research work.

Technical subjects discussed included such topics as: new plant hormones, cotton and grain sorghum research, breeding new cottons for Central Texas, micronutrients and soil testing. Tours showing the highly technical laboratory equipment demonstrated the use of space age equipment in agricultural research.

A highlight of the program was a discussion of marketing agricultural products by Dr. William Black, marketing economist at A&M. Dr. Black pointed out the need for bargaining power needed to do a better job of marketing farm products. In his discussion he emphasized the fact that farmer are currently using only a few of the ways to get bargaining power—and they are using these metholds too weakly.

ASCS

By Alva E. Sanders

Farm operators in Milam County were reminded today that applications for the transfer of cotton allotments for the 1969 crop should be filed no later than December 31, 1968.

Notices of the cotton allotment and the projected yield for individual farms have already been mailed to county farmers, so farm operators now are in position to make their production plans for next season.

In Milam County, growers voting in a special referendum earlier this year, failed to approve transfer of acreage allotments -- by sale or lease -- out of the county, so the transfer of allotments locally may be made from one farm to another only within Milam County. In no case may allotments be transferred to another farm outside the State.

Transfers of allotments between farms within the county and from a farm owned to a farm operated by the same individual are not subject to approval in a referendum. However, it is necessary that such transfers of allotments be filed with the county ASCS office before the December 1 deadline.

The December 31, 1968 deadline, therefore, applies to all transfers of 1969 cotton allotments for Milam County farms -- whether by sale, lease, or the owner.

CHINCH BUG CONTROL

A main factor in chinch bug control in lawns with chemicals is proper application, reports Phil Hamman, Extension entomologist. Timing of the insecticide application is important and it should be followed by a good irrigation of the treated area, he says. Local county agents can provide detailed information.

Santa's 'Helpers' . . . .

It should be a happier Christmas for the Cameron - Milam area.

Payroll here is up about $350,000 compared to a year ago. It is obvious from the aerial view on Page 1 of this edition that figure will increase considerably by another Christmas.

These estimates do not consider possibilities of additional industry and the impact of Alcoa's expansion on this Milam area. Both will be considerable.

Santa and the spirit of Christmas don't operate on dollars alone, but the things kids want and need seldom appear by magic.

The change is in men's view of things and the necessities of a modern life. The practical means of realizing Santa's presence and the spiritual depth of Christmas-time are more apparent.

The adult generation continues to respond with the hopes of their youngsters in mind and the realities of providing a future in hand.

That is quite a Christmas, putting Santa's helpers to work the year 'round.

What Others Say . . .

Any United States senator worth his weight at the pork barrel would be aghast if his sincerity about protecting this nation from nuclear attack were questioned.

Yet, attendance at the secret session of the Senate the other day to consider a new missile defense system appears to ask just that question. Consider the following paragraph from a wire service story concerning the closed door meeting on national security:

"About 35 to 40 senators were in the chamber for the unusual session—a large number for any Senate debate and particularly impressive in light of the fact that the debate coincided with the first game of the world series."

Here was a question involving national survival — which is pretty hum-drum business these days — and 35 to 40 senators bestirred themselves to attend.

Sleep well tonight; the Senate is half-awake. --Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiter

Spices in cookery parallel cosmetics in grooming. Both should be subtle in order to achieve a particular effect without becoming too noticeable.

Unless you use a spice often, buy small amounts and keep in tightly closed containers. Spices should be reewed at least once a year.

What is the best buy -- pecans shelled or unshelled? Two pounds of nuts in the shell will yield one pound of nutmeats.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

I've forgotten where I found it, what the name of the paper was or what date it was, but it doesn't matter, any newspaper you pick up nowadays will have the same story in it: Another Plane Hijacked To Cuba.

At last count the number was up to 30 or 40, or somewhere along there, I leave details to others, and while I may have missed some, I haven't read a single report on anything being done to the men who do the hijacking. It's the safest crime on earth today, outside maybe wrecking a college president's office. They just come on board with the rest of the passengers who think they're headed for Miami or Dallas or New York, wait till the plane is airborne, pull a gun on the crew, and direct it to Cuba, where they get off and the passengers eventually get to return.

The airlines say they don't know what to do about this, the same as college presidents; they can't afford to insult all their passengers by searching them before they come aboard, but I have a notion, although I'm not planning on being a passenger -- by the time I get from this Johnson grass farm to Cameron I've had all the traveling I want and all the risks I want to run -- that I'd rather be searched than flown to Cuba.

At any rate, I've been thinking about this hijacking business and it just occurred to me: what if these hijackers got organized? What if 1000 of them boarded 1000 planes the same day, forced them to fly to Cuba, and kept them?

If each plane had 100 passengers, that'd be 100,000 Americans stranded in Cuba. Keep it up every day for a few months, especially after planes start carrying 500 instead of 100, and you can see it wouldn't be long before the United States not only didn't have any planes left but very few citizens.

I'd be opposed to this. It takes all the people we've got now to keep up with the tax load, even when they let us do it on the installment plan.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Plan Seeks To Overcome State's Physician Shortage

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

A drastic plan to overcome the state's shortage of physicians will be presented to the 1969 Legislature.

Proposal will come from the Coordinating Board, which is responsible for administering public education in Texas beyond the high school level.

Their multi - pronged program would include doubling first-year enrollments in existing state medical schools in Galveston, Dallas, and San Antonio -- to a minimum of 565 freshmen by 1980 -- and giving tax subsidies to the Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston so that it can educate as many doctors for the state as it does privately.

Then, if the Legislature agrees, a new state medical school would be established in the Texas Medical Center in Houston. Also, Texas Tech would be authorized to start planning for a West Texas medical school, using the facilities of the Amarillo Medical Center and the expertise of Lubbock, Midland and Odessa hospital authorities.

"Should the need for the establishment of another additional medical school develop in the future," the Coordinating Board said, it will consider putting one at the University of Texas in Austin.

Meantime, all medical educators will be urged to explore possibilities for clinical and post-graduate capabilities in medical centers in El Paso, Temple and Tyler.

To be considered also is the dental shortage. A new state dental school is proposed for San Antonio, as well as tax subsidies for the Baylor School of Dentistry in Dallas. If Baylor can't help, then expansion of the UT Dental School in Houston will be considered.

To meet North Texas' growing educational needs, a college for junior, senior and graduate students is proposed in Dallas; acceptance of Southwest Center for Advanced Studies -- to be renamed The University of Texas Center for Advanced Studies in Dallas; a "federation" of North Texas State, Texas Woman's and East Texas State Universities to upgrade the quality of programs; and upper - level colleges for Houston, Midland - Odessa, and Corpus Christi, in addition to a 4 - year college in San Antonio.

Campaign statements, as well as current ones, made by Gov.-elect Preston Smith and Lt. Gov.-elect Ben Barnes indicate that they will lend strong support to the recommendations.

WATER PLAN SET

Texas' long - term, multi-billion-dollar water plan -- four years in the making -- will be unveiled at a public meeting here on December 17.

Texas Water Development Board Chairman Mills Cox announced the ceremony to explain the final version to top state officials, legislators, river authority, water district, conservation and city interests.

Long - range plan -- estimated to cost $3.7 billion for full implementation -- was revealed in preliminary form on May 30, 1966.

During the two years that followed, it was subjected to public hearings and criticisms all over the state. Most criticism came from West Texas which felt it had been shortchanged by planners. Two years' work went into the proposals before the tentative draft was completed.

Backbone of the mammoth plan is a 980 - mile system of lakes, channels and conduits to transport water from areas of surplus in East Texas to parched South Texas.

SCREWWORMS GALORE

Texas confirmed 4,400 screwworm cases during October, compared to 4,219 in Mexico, 75 in Arizona, 29 in California and 11 in New Mexico.

To combat the disease, 456,086,000 sterile flies were dropped over Texas. Mexico got 432,254,000, Arizona 50,590,000, California 8,300,000 and New Mexico 9,534,000.

Still a joint report of the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U. S. Department of Agriculture said there were no cases of scabies nor no suspicious outbreaks of hog cholera in Texas during October.

PARK STUDY

Senate Interim Committee To Study Park and Recreation Facilities has decided on at least two recommendations: (1) expediting the proposed Conquistador highway from El Paso to the Big Bend and (2) restoration of Camp Verde in Kerr County.

Conquistador Trail has been proposed by Trans - Pecos groups at least three times but the Texas Highway Commission has pleaded a lack of money. Highway would follow the Rio Grande into the Big Bend National Park.

Camp Verde quartered that famous Texas experiment in the use of camels before the Civil War. Later, the animals were moved farther west, to Fort Davis.

LEASE SALE SUCCESSFUL

School Land Board's last oil and gas lease sale of the year added $2,197,315 to the Permanent School Fund, bringing the total in that fund to $782,672,731.

Board leased 49,868 acres at an average price of $44 per acre.

Atlantic Richfield was the high bidder, with an offer of $186,782.40 Marginal No. 411 covering 1,440 acres in the Gulf of Mexico, Jefferson County. Atlantic Richfield also had the second highest bid, $149,818.40 for another 1,440 - acre tract in Jefferson County.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, who also is chairman of the School Land Board, expressed satisfaction with the average price per acre.

COURTS SPEAK

Supreme Court agreed in a little-publicized Nueces County case that Texans retired under company pension plans cannot promptly establish eligibility for unemployment compenstion without making diligent search for work.

Court spelled out rules for court appeals from Railroad Commission orders on oil and gas pooling operations. Rejection of application appeals can be filed only in Travis County. Appeals of pooling arrangements approved by the Commission can be brought in county where the land is located.

Supreme Court found no reason why district judge should not order a new trial of the case involving a $5,724 jury verdict favoring a Dallas Negro in his suit against loan companies for usury.

Reversing earlier decisions, High Court held a San Antonio firm which furnished concrete for a new apartment complex was an "original contractor" who could recover losses from an insurance company bond surety of project owner.

Third Court of Civil Appeals overturned a district court and concluded that Austin Savings and Loan Association can open a branch office in San Marcos despite local firm claims of too much competition.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bill Collector in Action

One way for a bill collector to prod a lagging detor is to punch him in the nose. Obviously, that way is illegal. It is assault and battery, for which the bill collector could be fined or even put in jail.

Another way is to send the debtor a polite letter reminding him that he may have overlooked his payment. Obviously, that would be perfectly legal.

But what about collection techniques that fall somewhere in between? How rough can the bill collector get before he is overstepping his legal rights?

To start with, assuming the debt is a legitimate one, the law is on the side of the collector. Obligations are to be paid, not shirked. As one court said, when a debtor complained that a bill collector was annoying him:

"The right of a creditor to inflict some worry upon a debtor by reasonable means is necessary to the very existence of the credit system."

However, the law is taking an increasingly stern view of harsh tactics. Not only may a collector run afoul of criminal statutes but he may also have to pay damages to the debtor.

That may happen, for example, if he unfairly exposes the debtor to public disgrace. In one case, a collector sent dunning letters in envelopes marked "WE COLLECT BAD DEBTS." The debtor sued the collector and won damages. The court said the phrase "bad debts" carried the implication that the debtor was not only delinquent (which was true) but also dishonest (which was false).

What about the common collection practice of telephoning a debtor to demand payment? Within reasonable limits, such calls are perfectly proper. But here too the law draws a line.

One collector, telphoning a woman about a debt, used such violent and abusive language that she became seriously ill. Later, she sued for damages, and the court held the collector liable. Said the judge:

"Neither beating a debtor nor purposely worrying him sick is a permissible way of collecting a debt."

Here's a stocking stuffer for a gourment on your Christmas list--meat tongs. Good cooks use tongs rather than a fork for handling sausage links, franks and chops and avoid piercing the meat. A fork tends to tear bacon, but by grasping the ends of bacon slices with tongs, the slices can be lifted and turned easily.
